GERMAN COLONIES.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has received a rather important note from the Resident Argentine Minister in Berlin, announcing the probable departure of 33,000 Germans for the Plate, under charge of Sr. E. Schultz, who proposes to found the largest German colony in South America. As the Great Eastern is laid up, Mr. Schultz will find it difficult to charter steamers numerous enough to accommodate such an unusual crowd of German emigrants, and we suppose the Hamburg, North German Lloyd, and Bremen lines of steamers will put on additional vessels to meet the exigencies of such an unparalleled hegira. The Argentine Government will, we understand, lend Mr. Schultz every assistance; and as we have got the land, the stock, and the farming implements for Mr Schultz's [lan]ds, we suppose the business may [be re]garded as concluded.

Hitherto every very large emigration scheme has been associated with the Gran Chaco, Misiones, or that happy Valley of the Rio Negro; but in the present instance there is, we are glad to say, a new departure, and the impending Germans are intended for pastures new.

We hear of a great German colony about to be established on lands lying between the colony of Candelaria and the Guardia Esquina and Guardia Melincue, in Santa Fe. Of course, the affair is kept most reserved, but there are many reasons that lead us to believe that the Germans will give this district a preference, as some very large German properties exist in that neighbourhood.

The success of the Swiss German colonists in Santa Fé is so well known both here and in Europe that it is really astonishing no move similar to that of Mr. Shultz has been taken previously, since there are numbers of most influential Germans indirectly connected with those numerous Santa Fé colonies. Mr. Casado's colony at Candelaria has now taken precedence of all those Santa Fé colonies, due to the increased facilities of the railway; and we may lay it down now as an established principle that without a railway or a river port a new colony is impossible. The Casado Railway will this year be extended towards Guardia Esquina, which is close to Venado Tuerto, and will from thence be continued to Carlota; but the future colonization lands will be those along Clark's Transandine Railway from Junin to Media Luna; some of the most fertile black lands in the whole valley of the Plate. We expect in a very few years to see the whole of the Oostendorp 'estancia', some 18 square leagues, cut up into farms and chacras for the German colonists that now begin to come to this country.

Had the Welshmen, instead of settling at Chupat established themselves at Melincue or Junin, what a gain for themselves and for the country! To-day we should have all the country around in that district a new Wales; but the experience derived from the error should not be lost sight of, and the settlement of thirty thousand Germans between Guardia Esquina and Candelaria will convert the Venado Tuerto, Loreto and Junin camps into a new Deutschland, and owing to the great richness of the soil thereabouts we may count on the certain success of our friends the Germans.

The signal success of the Central Argentine Land Company should be sufficient incentive to the Shareholders of the Buenos Aires and Pacific Railway to purchase the lands along their splendid line at 'estancia' prices and sell them to the colonists at chacra prices. A land company formed for such purpose would prove to the shareholders at brilliant a business as the Liebig Extract of Meat Company in Fray Bentos.

This new move of German emigration to the Plate, if properly attended to, will result in the most incalculable blessings to the country and the emigrants, as the Germans are good farmers, and—as is already proved in Santa Fé—they are well able, when they get a proper start, to carve their fortunes and achieve a brilliant independence.

JUNIN RAILWAY EXCURSION.

The Junin Railway is the first bona fide step of the Locomotive into the Pampa, since, although the extension of the Southern Railway to B. Blanca pierces camps that but a couple of years ago were Indian territory, still we always had the latitude and longitude of those southern camps; we knew the roads, rivers and mountains between Azul and Bahia Blanca. Not so with Junin, which is the last town of the Province of Buenos Ayres at that point. Beyond it is the wide, unbounded Pampa—a vast ocean of camp or pasture land which is fast rising to the dignity of private property, and is being subjugated by the "torniqueta" and ñandubay post. Junin is still the "Ultima Thule" of our Buenos Ayres Municipal civilization. The Governor of Buenos Ayres, whose rod of empire stretches from Carmen de Patagones, on the Rio Negro, stops here; and each kilometre of railway track that now bounds ahead into the Pampa is the opening of a new page in the industrial history of Buenos Aires.

On Thursday morning, June 26th, before the peep of day, we started from the Plaza Once de Setiembre. The whole country was covered with a white frost, and the morning was as cold as if we were travelling in midwinter in Canada or Denmark. Dr. Galbraith and Dr. Laspuir, who sat beside us in the carriage, were returning to attend the Courts in Mercedes. Mr John Gahan was bound for his estancia close to that town. Mr. King was bound for the great Carabassa Estancia 9 de Julio, to count the stock there and push on to Trenquelauquen; and Mr. Grimsditch, whose brother had met with a sad accident, was going out to Chacabuco to bring him in. The morning was so confoundedly cold that we could not sit to converse nor yet keep quiet to read the papers.

All the Flores quintas were as white as if it snowed all night. About Flores there is nothing to write; the place is advancing so fast that the tramway cars are always excessively crowded, and the total valuation of property in the partido, which in 1862 was but 17 millions m/c, is to-day fully twenty times that figure.

At Ramos Mejia we passed the grand quinta castle of General Santa Cruz, where two years ago President Roca resided. The trees have grown so high that the castle is no longer visible from the train. The Ramos Mejia demesne looks most charming. This fine property runs down to the Matanzas river and has a history. It was originally a grant from the King of Spain to Mr John Garay, in 1580, for his great victory over the Indians on the banks of that river. Mr. Madero, Vice-President, owns the fine property in front, and hard by is the once famous chacra of Mrs Hannah Burns, who in days of yore had a dairy farm here and subsequently moved out to the Indian frontier, then about Mercedes, where she mounted two field-pieces, and died suddenly from drinking a cup of cold water on a very hot day, in the year 1850.

Moron—dear old Moron! The people were all in bed as we passed. The "Eucalyptus Monte" at Ohio Park, Mr. Coffin's, seemed to have grown several yards higher within the last few years.

Merlo was the first place at which our train stopped. When we came to this country, Merlo was a partido covered with sheep and cattle estancias; to-day it is a wheat and maize growing district and covered with dairy farms. The sheep and cattle have had to move out, and the once renowned Wyatt Smith estancia is to-day ploughed up into chacras.

All along the line we noticed the country ploughed up, and at the Rodriguez Station we saw pyramids of bags of wheat waiting for waggons to convey them to town.

At Luxan we coffeed. Luxan has a history of its own. It was here that Rosas, in 1832, imprisoned Gen. Paz and kept him there for seven long years. During the English invasion in 1816, the unfortunate Viceroy Liniers escaped to Lujan with the treasury of the Cabildo of Buenos Aires. It is the only country town of the province that has London lamp-posts and a shrine to which a pilgrimage is still made every year from Buenos Aires. We had no time to stop to visit the town, but the Curate of the town, Father George, will shew the tourist the Shrine of the Virgin, which is no less remarkable for its antiquity than for the number of pilgrims who come thither from the Upper Provinces and other countries of South America. The offerings of silver ornaments exceed 50,000 in number and weigh several arrobas. Before this renowned shrine is a silver lamp bearing the incription "Agustin de Curia donavit A D, 1730." The town is called after a Spanish officer who was killed on the river's bank by the Indians some 300 years ago. The story goes that in the morning of the 18th century a rich lady of Sumampa, in Bolivia, ordered a statue of the Virgin from Spain and it was being conveyed overland from Buenos Aires when the oxen got tired at the banks of the Luxan river and could not be made to proceed further. This was the origin of the shrine, and about one hundred years ago it was a frontier Indian town. The whole district of Luxan is now rapidly passing into the hands of Italian agriculturists who pay 2,200 m/c per square, and make a home, a living, and an independence out of the land. Some 25 years ago Luxan was studded with Irish sheep-farmers, who have nearly all moved out to cheaper lands with their stock, and whose families to-day are some of the largest landed proprietors, of lands worth one to two millions currency per league.

True to time 9.15 we arrived at Mercedes and were welcomed from the train by Mr Cleminson, of London, the Engineer-in-Chief of the Buenos Aires and Pacific Railway. We all started for Nougues's Hotel where breakfast awaited us, after which we were all to start by special train to Junin.

Accustomed as we are to run out by train to Mercedes, there is nothing very fresh in the itinerary to write off, but it seemed to us that the camps along the line are more plouged up, more subdivided and more settled on than any other district North or South through which a railway passes. We travelled by railway a few years ago from Dublin to Carlow and we certainly saw fewer people in the fields and far less land ploughed up than here in our line of route to Mercedes. The growth of this country is something so palpable and so evident, that, even on a cold frosty wintry morning, the old resident of this country can see the unerring signs of increased population and increased production; of course on the outside lands the great progress of the country is still more obvious, but even in the limited area of camp between Buenos Aires and Mercedes the traveller sights the estancia of La Turbia once the property of Mr. Patrick Fleming, long since gathered to his fatters, who only 30 years ago was attacked by the Indians at his entancia house, who actually cut his throat and left him for dead; the cut was not however sufficient to sever the windpipe, and Mr. Fleming recovered and lived for many a year after to tell the tale. From Buenos Aires to Mercedes, 100 kilometres, the country may now be accepted as pure 'chacra' or grain growing land, as the few estancieros and sheepfarmers who still hold out are now buying land at Loreto, Venado Tuerto, Lincoln and Pergamino and settling out there. The city of Mercedes is a very important place, and we shall reserve for another chapter our remarks on that thriving country city.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

27th June.

I am sometimes asked the question, generally by cautious Englishmen, "Is there not a possibility of the price of land falling?" I am not surprised that doubts should exist on this subject; the rise in the price of land being so sudden, and apparently inflated. But we must be careful not to form an opinion on superficial lines. Ten years ago land was a drug in the market except round about the city of Buenos Ayres, and even there, alongside of a town of a quarter of a million of inhabitants, the price of land was nothing so high as that situated in out-of-the-way regions in the several English colonies. A pound an acre appears to Europeans, and North Americans, a very small sum to pay for good land, even in places hundreds of miles from commercial centres, while near markets and market towns, but at long distances from the sea, five and ten pounds and more is the value of an acre of land. In this vast country in which was a sparse population, with few wants and fewer ambitions, land was not reckoned by such an insignificant unit as an acre; it was reckoned by square leagues and it is a wonder that it was not by square degrees. Now, a square league contains 6400 acres, which although an enormous estate in England, Canada and the United States, except in the far West or Texas, was looked on as a very petty property, and petty it really was, as even in advantageous positions, it was scarcely worth more than a couple of hundred pounds, while thousands of leagues were to be bought for fifty, or given away for nothing by the governments. The progress of Native population being paralyzed by civil commotions, the demand for land made no progress either; on the contrary, large tracts that were, in the middle of last century, covered with cattle, as in the northern part of the Province of Santa Fé, were allowed to fall back into the possession of the savage.

Under these circumstances, it is easy to understand that immigration was the only means to save the country from its apathetic indiffer[illegible] and develop its intrinsic [illegible] But immigration set in s[illegible] old conservative rulers had [illegible] to the deep ruts and grooves of [illegible]quated tradition, and, with the exception of the development of the agricultural colonies of Santa Fe, land remained a drug in the market. A few men, like the late Mr. Armstrong, for instance, became possessors of large tracts at insignificant prices, and held on to them without making an effort to render their property remunerative. Suddenly the scene changed; a new class of men superseded the timid old fogies; the Indians were driven out of the richest regions of the Republic, the credit of the country was brought into action in a manner that startled society at first; railways sprang up, and we may say that the Argentine Republic, like a giant asleep for centuries, sprang up in all the vigour of manhood, never again to be shackled with the heavy chains of traditionary indolence, ignorance and indifference. It was then that men began to appreciate the value of the soil, and understand that land constituted the wealth and future prosperity of the country. Immigration, too, that heretofore had remained in the cities, now began to spread into the country and buy lands, until one fine morning the old estancieros, to their wonderment, found out that during the night their lands had quadrupled their value of the day before.

Here in Rosario, five years ago, a league of land, a dozen miles from town, might have been bought for a thousand pounds that is worth at the present time ten or twelve. The same sudden rise has taken place all throughout the Litoral. We cannot say that it is due to speculation, for rents have risen at the same time, and settlers readily pay a yearly rent equal to the actual value of the land ten years ago. But, after all, what does this apparently enormous advance in the price of land amount to? The Argentine Republic was like a rich mining region, whose riches lay undiscovered, and the land supposed to be worthless, when on opening into one of its rich veins lay bare its wealth. Is it not a natural sequence that the valueless region of yesterday becomes of incalculable value to-day. So it is with our lands. It is only just now that we have found they contain a certain miue of wealth, and it is my conviction that they are very far from having reached their intrinsic value, or, in other words, prices will augment instead of receding.

The finest sheep lands in this department of Rosario are sold now at from fifty to sixty thousand National dollars the league, and coarse grass lands from twelve to fifteen, say one pound ten to two pounds the acre for the first, and nine or ten shillings the last. Can any one say that these prices are inflated? And it is not the barren or sandy soil of Australia, but rich mould, that will give three or four crops of lucerne in the year, for fifteen consecutive seasons, without replenishing or manuring. It is not possible then to believe when such lands in other countries, in similarly advantageous situation, and no more fertile, are worth ten pounds or more the acre, that ours will long remain at ten shillings to two pounds.

I confidently feel myself justified in advising applicants to purchase without delay, for unless there come a disastrous crisis, there is very little chance of the price of land falling, and a very fair presumption, on the contrary, that all lying in available situations will steadily increase in value.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our Own Correspondent.)

May 24th.

Royat, where the Prince of Wales is residing, is the Ems of France. It is situated in the department of Puy-de Dome, two miles south-west of Clermont Ferrand. It is nine hours rail from Paris, and connects with the lines to Bordeaux and Lyons. The population is about 5,000. A limited trade is carried on in blanket-making, chocolates, wires, and there are some flour mills. Royat was known to the Romans as Rubiacum, from the red color of the rocks. On the neighbouring plateau of Gergovia, Vercingetorix defended against Cæsar the independence of Gaul.

Modern Royat dates from the seventh century, when St. Projet, bishop of Clermont, founded a Convent for girls. He founded also the curious church that now exists, which was chiefly rebuilt in the tenth, and 'fortified' in the twelfth century. Hence, the church has the appearance of a fortress, with its battlements and keep. The Croix-des-Saints, in the market place of the village, is a curious cross, having carved thereon the Twelve Apostles; it is the production of a monk of the thirteenth century. Any maiden who repeats a prayer on the anniversary of each of the Apostles is certain to find a husband. This may explain why the locality has never known an old maid.

Royat is deliciously situated on the sparkling Tirtaine, in the depth of a mountain gorge, and the shady nooks are enclosed like bowers by magnificent chestnut trees. The surrounding scenery is very beautiful in its wildness; there are many spots full of historical interest, and the region has been sung by poets, and painted by artists. In the old crypt of the church is a splendid spring. The grotto is renowned; it is some 34 yards square, carpeted with moss and lichens; seven jets of water shoot up from the floor. It is the boudoir of a Naiad; the natural home of Ægeria. Latin scholars will translate, but not divulge while laughing at the witty poetry scribbled on the wall some two centuries ago, to the nymphs of Royat.

Royat now possesses all the modern attractions and luxuries of an established thermal station. The climate during the season—May to September, is uniformly agreeable; the air has all the bracing elements of the mountains, without the fatigue or the severity. It is the centre of a volcanic region; so unchanged are the craters by the weather that they seem to have just been extinguished. Around are the petrified waves of the lava flood. The Limagore alone is estimated by geologists to have vomited in its day 60 million tons of lava.

The incoherent and porous nature of the scoriæ, which form the volcanoes of Auvergne, explains the perfect preservation of the craters. The rain has hardly fallen, when it penetrates the soil without deteriorating external forms; it is rejected at the base of the mountains, as rills, springs and streams; or, bubbling up as geysers and crystal fountains as at Royat, thus feeding the Tirtaine, which aliments the city of Clermont. Some of these springs are mineral, some thermal, and all more or less efficacious in the treatment of maladies. Although each spring comes from a common origin—the rainfall, yet each receives from the soil through which it passes to its emergence, some mineral principles sufficient to modify its nature and to give place to a special therapeutic application. In a word, each spring is a member of the same family, but possessing different aptitudes.

In their general character, the waters of Royat are all bi-carbonated, and more or less impregnated with chlorides, chiefly sodium; to these are to be added combinations of iron, manganese, lime, arsenic, lithia, potash and bromine. They are a distinct family, like the sulphurous waters of Pau, or the alkaline springs of Vichy. The difference lies in the chemical character.

The therapeutic action of the Royat waters is efficacious for those constitutional maladies generated by a refined civilization. Constitutional maladies form the base of chronic affections, but change with time and with man. New pains require new treatment. We know now that gout and rheumatism are first cousins, different forms of the same disease—"arthritis," and from which no organ or function can escape. Pampered life, climate, and what I may call, moral and mental tempests which shake the nervous temperament, are the predisposing causes of these diseases. The waters of Royat are in this case efficacious, and also for indolent digestion, and respiratory affections. They are specially excellent for the very large class of female ills under debility and nervousness.

The waters are prescribed following the ailment; they are taken as a beverage, and employed as a cold or warm swimming bath, douche, etc. The large natural warm Eugenie bath is 140 yards square, and is fed by a jet of water from the bowels of the earth, which throws up 1000 quarts a minute, having a temperature of 89 to 100 degrees of temperature; in the morning till noon it is reserved for the ladies, and the depth of the bath is graduated from 18 inches to six feet. There are rooms for inhalation, and apparatus for douches strongly impregnated with carbonic acid.

The water is soft and unctuous, agreeably acidulous, comforting and tonical. Dr. Gubler calls it "mineral lymph," because it contains all the elements which enter into the serum of blood. The "grotte du Chien" can rival that of the Dog's grotto at Naples. The atmosphere at the distance of 18 inches from the soil contains 25 per cent of carbonic acid, while common air contains about less than a half per cent, consequently a lighted match or cigar, if placed on a level with the knee, becomes extinguished; frogs, rabbits and birds fall down, gasp a few seconds and roll over dead; but a dog suspects, and after the first mouthful bolts as if a fish-kettle were fastened to his tail. And nothing would induce the animal to re-enter.

A Santa Fé paper reports a curious anomaly, viz, that there are so few bakers in the "wheat province" capital that bread has to be procured daily from Parana.

BUENOS AYRES AND ENSENADA PORT RAILWAY.

(Concluded.)

Mr. Peel said the report and the chairman's remarks upon it were so admirable that little remained for him to say. The main features of the report he gathered to be these—that the receipts had been augmented to the extent of pretty well 33 per cent., while the working expenses had been considerably reduced. These were favourable features in any business, but especially in regard to railway management. He felt compelled to differ from the chairman in regard to the preference shareholders not caring whether the ordinary shareholders received a dividend or not. Of course it was human nature to be somewhat selfish, but he looked upon the ordinary stockholder as the pulse of the undertaking; if he was satisfied all the other classes of holders would be equally so. As to the extension of railways in the Argentine Republic, no doubt Gevernor Rocha was a patriotic man, and his policy would benefit the country and many of the railways, but this company were so situated that they would have to look after themselves.

Mr. Krell pointed out that although there was a great deal of exceptional building going on in La Plata, yet there would be still more traffic when Ensenada was made the port to the capital, which it was bound to be made sooner or later.

Mr. Newton asked what was the price of the ordinary shares, and whether they were quoted on the Stock Exchange.

The Chairman, in reply, said the board believed a large traffic must come to Ensenada. There was another port called Riachuelo, a little way out of Buenos Ayres, and, although it was small, it was a port at which many ships discharged their cargoes. They had sent out instructions to the manager to carry out fully all works which were needed there for the carriage of traffic. They believed that they were supported by the shareholders in making the Ensenada Railway as capable a machine for the carrying of traffic as possible; and that they were backed up by the shareholders in all reasonable expenditure which would show beneficial results. (Hear, hear.) The last transfers showed that the ordinary stock was selling at £6 12s. and £6 15s. As soon as the Bill now before parliament was passed, the directors would go to the Stock Exchange and ask for a quotation of the 5 per Cent. Debenture Stock, the 8 per Cent. Preference Stock and the ordinary stock. There was one uniform gauge on the Buenos Ayres lines—namely 5ft. 6in.

Mr. Cuff said he had made some calculations, which showed that, if the traffic continued to increase as it had done up to the present time, the company would be able at the end of the present year to pay the full interest on the debentures and preference shares and divide the handsome dividend of 10 per cent. amongst the ordinary shareholders. (Laughter.)

The Chairman said the ratio of expenditure on short lines was always larger than on long ones.

The resolution was then put and carried unanimously.

On the motion of the Chairman, the retiring directors, Mr. C. B. Ker, and Mr. W. P. Sutherland, were re-elected; and on the proposition of Mr. Peel, the auditor, Mr. Waddy, was also re-appointed.

The Chairman then rose, and, after some observations, proposed—"That the directors be authorised to give a bonus to such officials of the company as they may think entitled to such consideration, in respect of extra work during the past year: and that the thanks of the meeting be given to the general manager and other officers of the company for their zealous and efficient services during the past year.

On the motion of Mr. Newton, seconded by Mr. Peel, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the directors for their past services, and the Chairman having briefly acknowledged the compliment, the proceedings terminated.

THE HIBBERT LECTURES.

In his fourth Hibbert lecture, delivered, like the others, at St. George's hall, Professor Reville said that quitting Mexico, and passing from North to South America, they had now to study that other indigenous civilization which grew up on the strip of land, nearly 1,000 leagues long, but comparatively narrow, between the Cordilleras and the ocean, under the shelter of an extremely curious and original religion. Peru, like Mexico, was the country of an organized solar worship, which was even more strikingly than the Aztec wrought into the very tissues of the social structure. The empire of the Incas was, perhaps, the most complete and absolute theocracy the world had ever seen. In order to give a clear idea of the Peruvian religion, the lecturer proceeded to sketch the country itself, its physical constitution, and its history—dimly traceable for 600 years in the narrative of the Inca prince Garcilasso before it fell a prey to the unlettered Spanish captain Pizarro. The Incas were a family of priests, who reigned over the Peruvian land as children of the Sun, the great deity of the country. To obey the Incas was to obey the supreme god. Their persons were literally worshipped, and so completely had they identified the interests of their own dynasty, of religion, of politics, and of civilization, that it was impossible to sunder them. Peru had become in the 16th century an enormous convent, in which everything was mechanically regulated, being made to depend absolutely upon the will of the reigning Inca, so that the moment Pizarro succeeded in laying hold of this "father abbot," Huayna Capac, the whole collapsed at once, and nothing was left of the sacred edifice so skilfully built up, but a heap of sand. After giving the details of the astounding theocracy organized in Peru, which, it was remarked, the Jesuits had made their model in Paraguay, its effects were passed in review. If it were alleged in excuse for the Incas and the Jesuits that they alike had to fight down the stormy turbulence of savage instincts, neither must it be forgotten that both pushed to such an inhuman extreme their system of keeping men in swaddling clothes for ever so as to crush out all individual life. For the Incas it was pleaded that generally speaking they made a very humane and paternal use of their absolute power. The most noticeable results of their rule came out in the material well-being which they secured for their people. All the historians spoke of the truly extraordinary perfection to which Peruvian agriculture had been carried, although the use of iron was quite unknown. The solar religion exactly suited the habits of an agricultural people, and the Incas thought it became them as the offspring of the Sun to encourage the cultivators of the soil. They ordered great public works, such as supporting walls, to prevent the washing away of slopes; irrigation canals, some of them 120 leagues long; magazines of guano, whose fertilizing virtues were well known to them. Splendid roads stretched from Cuzco towards the four quarters of heaven. Humboldt still traced some of them, paved with black porphyry, or even macadamized, and often spanning ravines or piercing hills with striking boldness. The Incas had established along the highways public reservoirs of drinking water. Bridges were flung across rivers, sometimes of stone. As in Mexico, a system of royal courier posts measured the great roads. There were many important cities in Peru, and, according to Prescott, the capital, Cuzco, numbered 200,000 souls. In every great city the Incas had at least one palace whose architecture was in a developed stage, while gilding and sculpture adorned the walls. Since this civilization was mostly due to the dynasty, the lecturer next ascended to its mythic origin as told by their descendant, Garcillasso de la Vega. Properly speaking, said the lecturer, the narrative was the local myth of the Lake Titicaca transformed into an imperial myth. Before the Incas, it said, men lived in the most absolute savagery. They were addicted to cannibalism, and offered human victims to gods who were gross like themselves. At last the Sun took pity on them and sent them two of his children, Manco Capac and Mama Ogllo, to establish the worship of the Sun and alleviate their lot. The two emissaries, son and daughter of the Sun and Moon, rose one day from the depths of the Lake Titicaca. They were told that a golden splinter would pierce the earth at the spot in which they were to establish themselves, and the augury was fulfilled on the site of Cuzco, the name of which signifies "navel." In like manner Babylon, Athens, Delphi, Paphos, Jerusalem and so forth, each passed for the navel of the earth. Manco Capac and Mama Ogllo then and there founded the worship of the Sun. They taught the savages of the place agriculture and the principal trades, the art of building cities, roads and aqueducts. Mama Ogllo taught the women to spin and weave. The divine pair picked out many overseers to take care that every one did his duty, and when they had thus regulated everything in Cuzco they re-ascended to heaven. But they left a son and daughter to continue their work. These, like their parents, became husband and wife, and from them sprang the Incas. The lecturer said he could entertain no doubt as to this being a cosmicmyth. Mama Ogllo, or "the mother egg," and Capac, or "the mightyman," were two creators. The myth pointed to the existence of an ancient solar priesthood on one of the islands or shores of the Lake Titicaca, which must have been very early the fotus of a kind of civilization, and that this sacerdotal family became at a certain epoch the ruling power at Cuzco. It had the advantage of numbering in its royal line both successful warriors, and, what was much more, consummate politicians. The point at which Garcilasso's legend was at fault was the claim it put forth for the Incas of having been the first and only civilizers of Peru. Other Peruvian myths of civilization would have to be dealt with in the sequel having nothing to do with Macno Capac and the Incas. The lecturer instanced the kingdom of Quito, which Peru had only just absorbed when she was herself conquered by Pizarro, as but one of several neighbouring countries which were likewise centres of a pre-Incan civilization. To sum up, continued the lecturer, everything led to the supposition that various centres of social development had long existed up and down the whole region, albeit quite isolated from the central American and Mexican area of intellectual and religious life, but that under the presiding genius of the priesthood of Manco Capac the civilization of Cuzco had gradually got the upper hand, until in the end it eclipsed and swallowed up one after the other all the rest. Garcilasso was extremely anxious to make us believe that his maternal ancestors, the Incas, always shed around them the sheen of an age of gold. But his own unwilling witness, corroborated by other testimony, proved that the dynasty counted both bad and incapable rulers. More than once they had to put down fearful risings, and the palaces of these earthly sungods had witnessed more than one tragedy. But after making all due allowances, they must be owned to have ruled ably and well on the whole, more especially in upholding their own religious and political prestige. Curiously enough when, piqued by this very cleverness, this conscious and often extremely deliberate and well-weighed policy of theirs, we asked how far the Incas believed in their being the offpring of the Sun, there was found so much sheer rationalism in their habitual tactics that one could not help suspecting a touch of it in their beliefs. And the truth was that the scion and historian of their house, Garcilasso, had recorded certain traditions little likely to scatter our doubts. Perhaps he had Christianized these traditions too much in order to convince his readers that his ancestors were monotheistic philosophers. But these traditions nevertheless bore the marks of a relative authenticity, as in the reasonings of the freethinking Inca Yupac Yapanqui to the following effect:—

"They say that the Sun lives, and that he is the Creator of all that is. But when one does anything one is near to the thing one does, whereas many things take place while the Sun is absent. It, therefore, cannot be he who does everything. And, again, if he were a living being would be not be tired out by his perpetual journeying? If he were alive he would experience fatigue as we do, and if he were free he would visit other parts of the heavens which he never traverses. In truth, he seems like a thing with no will of its own, that always measures the same course, and like an arrow that flies whither it is shot, and not whither it wills of itself."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news of the day from over the water is, that the Grand Old Man has tackled the House of Lords and brought in a Bill dealing with its privileges. The Franchise Bill has, no doubt, been the cause of this move. The principle of hereditary power to legislate is doomed in England. Their Lordships will probably die game, but their privileges must go, and an elected Upper House will suit the spirit of the age much better.

We specially commend to our readers the "Hibbert Lectures," from the Times, in another column. It is most interesting.

The recent railway accident was the subject of discussion in the Provincial Chamber of Deputies on Friday. Deputy Schnyder (it is pleasant to see Dutch patronymic in the Chamber) moved that a Select Committee be appointed to enquire into the accident. Deputy Martinez opposed, and said that the line was not quite finished, and had no turning-table for the engines. Deputy Schnyder wanted to know why there was no turning-table and why an unfinished line had been opened to the public? On a division the House rejected the motion for a Select Committee.

A match, which is creating considerable interest in sporting circles, will be run to-day at two o'clock, on the Palermo Race-course, between Star, the property of the Stud Santa Teresa, who ran the other day at Lanus, and was beaten by Diana and Nil Admirari, the property of S. Romero, a horse that made its debut on the Lanus Race-course last year. The match is for 1,000 Nationals aside, distance 1,200 metres, and weight 140 lbs.

Telegrams from Rosario report the explosion of a boiler in Mr. Ross's well-known foundry there. Three men were seriously injured.

We wish to somewhat correct the correction we made yesterday about the recent railway accident. The Southern railway officials had nothing to do with it. At Temperly the trains are always handed over to the Western Railway officials; and the engine, engine-driver, stoker, guards etc of the wrecked train were all of the Western Railway, which is alone to blame.

Five young gentlemen were received as medical doctors by the Faculty yesterday. Unfortunately, Buenos Aires is such an unhealthy city that all our medical friends make fortunes, and this encourages the rising generation to join the noble profession, which is in danger of being as much overstocked as the Bar. When the Drainage Works are completed and at work for a few years there will probably be a great improvement in the health of the city, and half our doctors will have to take to vine-growing in Mendoza, silver mining in Catamarca, or whale-fishing off Tierra del Fuego.

The Politeama was crowded on Friday night. His ex-Majesty Namuncura the Last was present and seemed to think very little of the performance although it was an excellent one.

Tit for tat. We make a boast here of imitating the great United States in everything, although it must be confessed that we make a rather poor attempt at it. The great Republic, it is asserted by a colleague, is about to return the compliment by adopting for its army the Costa rifle, an Argentine invention.

The Rosario papers tell a queer story of how a lovely girl got a husband there lately. She had three admirers, who all watched each other with lynx eyes. So close was the race for the fair damsel's hand that they all proposed for her the same evening. Woman like, at this crisis in her life she did not know which of the trio she really liked best, so she went to her "guvnor" and asked his advice. The old gentleman called the three suitors to a conference and proposed that they should throw dice for his daughter's hand. They did so, and the young fellow who was the first to propose for her won her. The wedding is fixed for an early date.

The poor young fellow who was wounded by his father on Friday morning was still alive yesterday, but the doctors had not been able to extract the bullet, and have very little hope that he may survive.

Everybody who is anybody, and lots of nobodies to boot, are going to the benefit for the British Hospital at the Politeama on Friday night next. Mr William McKern has carriage of the sale of tickets, and he will open the ball on Tuesday morning. Already he is besieged with verbal orders to "keep a box for me Mac."; "five seats for me"; "ten for me," and so on.

General Racedo, Governor of Entre Rios, arrived in town yesterday. His numerous friends in this city intend to entertain him at a grand banquet during his brief sojourn in the metropolis. The General is the most progressive Governor Entre Rios has ever had, and that province has gone ahead wonderfully since he took office.

Mr. Pavlowski, Director of the Agricultural School at Mendoza, also arrived in the Capital yesterday. He has come down for some fine animals which Dr. Irigoyen, Sr. Fernandez and other gentlemen have presented to the school.

Railway mishaps are like fires and many other misfortunes—they always come in troops. On Friday two locomotives ran into each other at Tolosa, and two cow-catchers were smashed. Nobody killed.

The porter of the Colegio de Uruguay, who has recently been granted a life pension by Congress, will be entertained at a banquet shortly by several ex-students of the college. Is not this carrying the thing just a little too far.

We received the following yesterday:—

Dear Standard.

It is too bad of your Paris Correspondent to write to us a farrago of rubbish about Lisbon and the Portuguese, under the pretence of giving us news from the former gay and festive capital. He must have had Hanoï or Saigon in his mind's eye when he wrote, for he surely doesn't think that because he knows nothing about Lisbon, no one else does. The only statements that are not ridiculously false are those which describe the Portuguese as "very mild," (very "polite," would be more correct) and that in the bull-fights the tips of the animals' horns are sheathed. This is to prevent the horses they use from being killed, as they are always highly trained and valuable animals; and not fit only for the knacker's yard, as in Spain. But the sheathed horns can hurt the men, and often do. Your Correspondent should "llevar la musica á otra parte."

Dear Sirs,
I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Golden Leaf Extract" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.
After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.
Yours truly

ON 'CHANGE.

June 28th, 1884

Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas F	83¾
National Bank Shares	149⅞
Scrip	69
Old Gas Shares	1,600 m/c.
National Bonds 5o/o	75

The National Bank Share market opened with an uneasy feeling to-day at last night's closing rates. The bears mustered strong and were prepared for action. Some bad rumors were set afloat and then they began selling headlong, letting go at any price for the end of July. A dozen brokers were shouting and offering to sell at the same time, and they let go to the first bidder. This had a weakening effect on the price of the stock, but rates fell more as the news spread that there was some disagreeable news from London—the bears, strange to say, know everything that is going on in London and have a powerful receptivity for the propagation and multiplication of bad news. In fact, they have all the bad news to themselves; the bulls are quite staggered by this incredible amount of information, and it would appear that the cable is steadily working to transmit the unfavorable hue of news in London. Not the least remarkable feature of all these movements is the fact that, with the exception of the Railway Loan, all the gold paying Argentine stocks in London hold their own; Hard Dollars alone shew a heavy decline, and this is the more significant, as it is a 'paper' paying stock, and there is a suspicion rampant that advices were cabled from here to London announcing probabilities of 'curso forzoso'. What puzzles the market is how the share speculation in this market has become entangled with London fluctuations on the Stock Exchange; that all this should be brought to bear on a speculation for a fall in the share market shews the interests at stake in the liquidation next Monday. It is, therefore, opined by the bulls who, view with wonder these desperate efforts of the bears, that the liquidation of the month will be a most important event.

Two thousand five hundred shares were sold for the end of the month; the market opened at 151, and dropped to 149½, but closed at 149⅞. About 3,000 were sold for July; rates opened at 152⅓, and closed at 151¼. The entire market is now occupied with the prospects of the liquidation of the month. The fitful starts of the market during the month shew that both bulls and bears can fall back on powerful elements. The victory of the bulls is a question of money; if they can scrape up enough capital they may corner the market in an unmerciful manner, and the bears are quite satisfied that all the money necessary cannot be got together. Thus the positions stand; Monday will decide the contest; the liquidation promises to be the most stirring settlement day of any month of the year up to the present.

Over five hundred Certificates of the National Bank were sold cash and for the end of the month at 69. An Italian broker bought 500 at this rate. The Scrip ruled much in demand during the morning; holders at first would not let go at 69, but later on they gave way. Several thousand Certificates must have been delivered yesterday and to-day; many investors who anticipated a fall were deceived and could not get the stock at the limits which they had fixed.

Cedulas F ruled more active than usual and there was a slightly firmer tone in the market to-day. Fair amounts were sold for the 30th at 83¼ to 83⅜; 4,500 were sold for July at 83½ to 83⅝. A few thousand A changed hands for cash at 100½. Cedulas E have dropped out of notice; nobody mentions them, and the Series appears doomed as a speculative paper. It is, nevertheless, calculated that there is over one million Cedulas held up at the ring in the hands of a few leading operators. As the money market becomes easier and rates fall in the winter months, there may be a revival in the stock before spring.

A few Old Gas shares were sold at 1600 $m/c each: A few thousand National 5 o/o also changed hands this morning at 75. Congress has voted two millions more of this stock, but this has not affected its price, which is hard at 75 for some time.

A broker offered to buy shares of the Gran Chaco Sugar Co. to-day at 10 o/o premium; but holders would not sell. This Company is as yet not well-known in the market and has not begun working, but active operations are expected before the end of the year when the machinery from Europe will be up. The Company has a future and is started on the soundest foundations in this market.

The money market rules easy, and much money was offered on the Bolsa to-day. The demand is not so great as expected. Discounts are also easy and the banks are all liberal. The exchange market is calm; the National Bank must have drawn freely, as little exchange is reported done in the open market. Many applications stand over for next mail. Drawers in the market at 47, but rates nominal.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 8,600 at 100½
For cash F 8,600 at 83¼-⅜

Sales, 136,200

National Bank Shares—

Pascal arrived down to-day from Campana and sails on 1st July for Lisbon and Antwerp with—
17,000 bags maize
6,000 salted hides
2,500 dry hides
857 bales wool

Cuvier arrives down to-morrow from Rosario and sails on 1st July for Antwerp and Liverpool direct via Southampton.

Norfolk arrives from San Pedro to-morrow with 18,000 bags maize, and fills here to sail on 3rd July for Hamburg.

Rosse sails to-night for New York with 1,000 dry hides, 37 bales and 9 cases, and for Rio Janeiro 200 sheep, 1,000 bags maize and 60 bales hay.

Vandyck sails to-morrow for St. Vincent with 18,000 bags maize.

Private cablegrams from London announce an uneasy state of affairs in the stock market owing to the critical condition of money matters in the United States. The tenor of these advices leads one to suppose that there is a superabundance of money in London but much distrust in the stability of the stock market.

Owing to the late changes introduced in the staff of the Great Southern Railway, it is reported that Mr F. D. Brusa will take charge of the Stores' Department on and from July 1st.

Eight leagues of land in the 2nd Section of National lands are reported sold at the rate of 130,000 $m/c per league. Broker, Mr Gomez.

The National Bank drew yesterday about one hundred thousand pounds and a million francs. Fair amounts in sterling were passed this afternoon at 47 and 47⅛; nothing reported in francs, but some marks done at 4.

The fine Platense steamer Pomona is posted to leave for Bahia Blanca and Patagones on Tuesday, 1st July.

All the steamers in port are now loading wheat and maize; nearly every boat that leaves takes from ten to twenty thousand bags of cereals.

All kinds of rumors were floated to-day with regard to the signing of the bond of the thirty million loan. Cablegrams have been exchanged between the Government and the Argentine Minister in London.

Exchange on Montevideo done to-day at 2¼ p. cent.

The bears came down on the market with full force during afterhours and the bulls were beaten in all directions. About four thousand shares were sold and the market tumbled headlong from 149¾ to 148¼, closing with buyers at 148½ for the end of the month. The bears strained every nerve to-day and their efforts were desperate. Monday promises to be a very busy day and it is thought that the liquidation will close about the present current rates. Bank Scrip was more freely offered in the evening; there were sellers at 68, but no buyers.

Mr. Frederick Kaye, of London, Liverpool and Glosgow, was welcomed on 'Change today.

The Minister of the Interior has made the following calculations for the budget of the Central Argentine Railway next year. The calculations are based on the returns of the line of late:—

Gross returns	2,?00,000$
Expenses	1,2??,826
Net returns	1,361,174
7 o/o guarantee	575,000$
Balance	786,000$

These estimates shew the splendid working of this great trunk line—the best paying in the republic.

Mr. T. Getting expects a fine lot of Lincoln rams and ewes on board the Lamport. A splendid lot of blood-stock bought by J. Frias is also expected in her.

Payments on 'Change to-day were large. All the desks were crowded to-day with maize and wheat men.

The Castle Eden was despatched from Rosario on the 26th by Messrs. Peake & Co. with a cargo of wheat for Havre.

The Myrtle Branch is expected in Rosario with 500 tons of railway materials.

724 bags maize
192 packages silver

Advices from the North camp state that the camps are in splendid condition; the lambing is extraordinary all over the North and west, and the increase is so great that thousands of animals must be moved off to outside camps.

Fears are entertained with regard to the fate of the cutter Viedma plying between this port and Patagones. She was sighted last week before the Rio Negro bar in a strong gale and has not been seen since. As gales in that quarter generally blow from the S.E. she may have made for San Blas bay. The Rio Negro bar is always very rough at this time of the year.

The Montevidean Bolsa ruled very dull yesterday and stocks were kept up with difficulty. Unifieds fell ⅛ for cash; the latest news is that a speculation is got up in London to buy the stock at lower rates than in the Mount in order to sell them on time here. Exchange rules very dull. Something passed on London at 51¼, on Rio 11$850 per £. Telegrams from Rio under date 26th quote exchange on London at 20d; this is a further drop since the beginning of the week. The produce markets in the Mount have been fairly active; 14,000 arrobas of mestiza wools reported sold yesterday at current prices. Exchange on B. Aires is quoted at 2⅛-¼ o/o; money rules very abundant and the best bills in the market are quoted at 6½ o/o—this is ½ lower than last week, and money is getting cheaper every day.

We call attention to W. P.'s correspondence from Rosario in another column. All that is said of lands in Sta. Fé may be applied in a greater degree to lands in this Province within the Vth Meridian. Lands must continue to rise in value proportionately to the increase of population and of wealth in the country—and even should the worst happen the only investment that will hold its own is land. Land is the back bone of this Republic, and there are many who believe that the rise in lands which we have witnessed these last three years is merely embryonic and is only the prelude of a much greater rise in the next few years.

It is rumored that the National Government will present a bill to Congress requesting authority to grant a subvention to companies formed for the export of meat from this country. Others say that the intention of the Government is to grant a premium to these companies for the best process of export. At all events this points to legislation in the right direction and through a strange coincidence we see that our Imperial neighbor, Brazil, is legislating in the same groove in order to foment the beef industry in the Southern provinces of the Empire. All efforts made in this direction are praiseworthy and meet with the applause of the market.

It is high time for Congress and the Executive to frame a bill for the erection of a Lazaretto in Martin Garcia or some out-of-the-way place on the coast. The cholera news from Toulon is a solemn warning to the Government, and as the epidemic may spread to other ports on the Mediterranean some precautionary measures are much called for. Every year the R. Plate is on the 'qui vive'—owing to some sporadic case of yellow fever or other dreaded disease, but in spite of these warnings and of yearly alarms the authorities do little or nothing to prepare for emergencies that may any year stare us in the countenance and spread death in the city. Forewarned, they say, is forearmed—but up to the present the saying turns out wrong in the R. Plate. Quarantine is the only measure that the Government can employ in these circumstances—but the Lazaretto is not even mentioned.

A Derangement of the Liver.

THE CAUSE OF DISEASE IN THE STOMACH, KIDNEYS, AND Nervous System.

Below will be found a brief summary of a Lecture upon the Liver, delivered before the Eclectic College of Medecine, by
Dr. J. Haydock
The Liver has been known as the great blood-maker and blood-purifier of the circulation From its size and spongy structure, it plays a most important part in the animal economy, as regards assimilation and nutrition. Food taken in the mouth and acted upon by the digestive organs of the stomach is converted into Glucose and Peptone, and in these forms enters the Portal vein. Here, by the action of the liver, these substances are converted into a form of sugar and pass out of the liver by a large vein, called the Hepatic vain, into the great circulation. The new material now formed serves two purposes: viz: the maintenance of heat in the body and assisting in the cell growth of the system.
Dr. Murchison says "The composition of bile and its secretion is very complex. It is constantly being secreted by the liver, and, increasing suddenly before eating, gradually decreases as soon as the appetite is satisfied and feeding ceases." Now, if this most important organ of the body becomes torpid, or the passage of bile interfered with, emaciation and disease ensue. I have noted eight marked peculiarities that now occur, and which we all know off:—
1. The patient complains of a feeling of weight and fullness of the stomach.
2. Distension of the bowels by wind.
3. Heartburn.
4. A feelingof weariness, pains in the limbs and great sleepiness after meals.
5. A bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, and furred tongue.
6. Constipation, with an occasional attack of diarrhœa.
7. Headache in front of head.
8. Depression of spirits and great melancholy, with lassitude and a disposition to leave everything for to-morrow.
All of the above symptoms go to show functional derangement of the liver; and now comes the great importance of any error made as to the condition of the patient. He should immediately provide himself with a Liver Stimulant, the most common form of which is a Pill. Daily experience shows that this, when the Pill is compounded properly, is the readiest mode of inciting and promoting the action of the Liver, and can be almost always relied on. I have devoted many years of my life, as many of you now before me know, to compounding a Pill to act readily and systematically as a Bilious remedy. I do not believe in great purgatives, and therefore have made a Pill, one of which is an active and thorough dose. I have called it
Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pill
(SUGAR COATED)
One Pill is a Dose! One Pill is a Dose!
For all Diseases of the Kidneys, Retention of the Urine, Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pills are a perfect cure. One Pill will satisfy the most skeptical.
For Female Diseases, Nervous Prostration, Weakness, General Lassitude, Want of Appetite and Sick Headache, Dr. Haydock's New Liver Pills, will be found an Effectual Remedy.
They are universal in their effects, and a cure can almost always be guaranteed.
Each vial contains Twenty Pills. One Pill is a Dose. Price Twenty-five cents.
For sale by all Druggists
Every Pill is Sugar-Coated. If your druggist does not keep them, we will mail them free to any address on receipt of 25 cents. Five vials for $1.00. Buy at once. Do not Deal.
CAUTION—To secure the genuine Haydock's Pills, observe that the signature of J. H. Francis, Agent for the United States, is written on every dozen package. Purchase none without this.
As Dr. Haydock's Liver Pills are entirely different from the 212 kinds now in the market any skeptic can have a sample bottle sent him free on receipt of his name and address.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Things are going ahead in the new capital of this province rather too fast. The very latest news from that quarter is that a "Conservatorio de Musica" is to he started there at once in a wooden "casilla." Music is sublime; but teaching and learning it in a wooden shanty smacks slightly of the ridiculous. The citizens of La Plata must have a wonderful taste for music when they want a "Conservatoire" in a place not a year old. London is rather a venerable city, yet it is only of late it has thought of opening a School of Music.

Our distinguished visitor Namuncura received 500 Nats. yesterday from the National Government, as pocket money. We hope he will spend it judiciously.

There is a collection of Peter's Pence to-day at the Chapel of the Passionist Fathers.

We hear that "Our Local Talent" are about starting an amateur dramatic society. With the "grit" they were able to put forward last week, and the numerous others who, we have no doubt, will be willing to lend their abilities, the society should be a success and a great source of amusement to the people of Buenos Aires, while it would help to benefit some charitable institution.—Messenger.

The weather took a milder turn yesterday and the morning was delightful, but later in the day there was a pluvious look in the sky. The greasy state of the footwalks was the subject of universal execration. Ice and greased eels combined could not be more slippy.

The French residents have completed their programme for the annual pow-wow on the 14th prox., their national fete day. The only new feature will be a march past the French Legation of all the Gauls in town. Innumerable balls will be given on the occasion.

There is always something queer in the law line going on here. Yesterday it was the end of a lawsuit commenced in the year 1834; and now we hear of a will case in which the testator died in 1829 and his grandchildren are only now taking out probate.

We have late papers from Bahia Blanca, but there is not very much news in them. We see that they threaten to publish the names of their "suscritores morosos." This is a thing we never have to do: Our subscribers are never morose, but always as gay as larks.

The Figaro announces a coming suith in the criminal courts in connection with some Bolsa speculation in National Bank shares.

The whole population of Banda Oriental is only 507,000. No wonder they are the richest people under the son—counting per head.

River Plate saladeristas will soon find themselves in the same box as Othello; not the gentleman who had such a narrow escape in the railway accident the other day, but the Moor of Vinice when he declared his occupation gone. There is now a Bill before the Brazilian Parliament to guarantee 6 per cent on 800,000 pats capital to start meat preserving and salt beef curing companies, and so render the empire in time independent of the Plate for meat. This new move by the Brazilians will probably eventually jerk the life out of the R. P. jerked beef business.

The Union warns the public against a party who is taking round the hat for subscriptions to open a school; he or she gives the Catholic associatien as a reference, but that body knows nothing of the party.

A band of Italian brigands captured a duke recently and held him for thirty days. Any American heiress can do that, and hold him longer.

When a clothing shop gets on fire some of the clerks spring over coats and some fall over coats, and nearly every one pants when he gets out.

A drinking man upon reading in a novel that the heroine's beautiful face "colored with pleasure," remarked: "Now I know what's the matter with my nose."

President Barnard, of Columbia College, says: "The young men of the present time are just as full of animal spirits as were their brothers or fathers." He probably meant 'ardent' instead of 'animal.' It is true, however, whether he meant it or not.

ARRENDAMIENTOS

Lote num. 1—Establecimiento Las Mulas

Se compone su área de 2802 hectareas 25 areas y 67 cents. alambradas con siete hilos y postes a 5 varas teniendo por un costado como limite el rio del Salto que es una magnifica aguada permanente y ademas otras dos aguadas que son el arroyo de Muñoz y el de las Mulas.

La calidad del campo extra flor é igual a los celebres campos de "Las Gemelas" del finado General Pacheco y vendidos por nosotros hace poco a razon de 2000 mil pesos la cuadra.

Linda con los señores Ham, Blanco, Crisol hnos, herederos de Dorrego. (Las Saladas y el Triunfo), Hyland y Duggan hnos, y dista solo 4 leguas del pueblo del Salto.

Poblaciones—10 puestos para ovejas con corrales, pozo etc. Estancia principal con seis habitaciones de azotea, cochera, cocina, 1 gran galpon de fierro galvanizado, baño para ovejas alfalfales, montes, corrales para ovejas y otro para hacienda vacuna.

Lo que antecede demuestra claramente que es un establecimiento de primer orden actualmente ocupado con mas de 30,000 ovejas que venderemos el 6 de Julio en el mismo establecimiento. Esta estancia se arrendara por el termino de 5 años con la infima base de 150,000 $ m/c al año, pagaderos por semestre, adelantados y con una garantia a satisfaccion.

Lote num. 4—Establecimiento La Fortuna.

Su area 2662 hectareas y 69 areas y 71 cents alambrado por tres costados con 6 hilos y postes a 5 varas con una aguada permanente que lo es el arroyo del Saladillo.

Calidad de campo igual al de la testamentaria de Pacheco. Las Gemelas con el cual linda por un costado habiendo sido antes parte de estos renombrados campos los mas ricos del Norte, que no tienen rival en toda la Provincia. Los otros linderos son Juan M. Mac Guire, Alejandro Sierra, Agueda Pacheco de Berdier y herederos de Julio Pacheco.

Poblaciones—Estancia principal con 3 habitaciones de azotea, cocina, cuarto de sirvienta, despensa y demas comodidades, galpon muy bueno, cochera, cuarto para peones, montes, quinta, alfalfal, corrales para hacienda vacuna y tambien 11 puestos con corrales para ovejas y pozo, cada una dista del Salto 1½ legua; existen en el campo 16,000 ovejas que remataremos el 7 de Julio y ademas 5 puestos ó sea 600 cuadras cuadradas mas o menos arrendadas, cuyo contrato vence el 1 de Marzo de 1885, produciendo termino medio 15,000 $ m/c cada puesto pagadero adelantado, estos contratos hay que respectarlos y al que arriende todo el campo se le entregara la parte que corresponda el termino señalado. La base para el arrendamiento es igual en todo al lote anterior.

Inutil nos parece demostrar que el precio fijado dista mucho de lo que generalmente se paga en aquel partido y solo señalaremos un solo caso el de los Sres. Crisol hnos. arrendado a razon de 205,000 pesos legua y no hay que admirarse de esto cuando en estos campos no hay una sola pulgada de desperdicio.

VENTA

Lotes Num. 2 y 3,—1242 cuadras cuadradas.

Mas ó menos parte del campo de las Mulas, campos conocidos por de Murray, se remataran en 2 lotes cada uno de 621 cuadras cuadradas, uno con opcion al otro, el todo esta alambrado por 3 costados con 6 hilos y postes a 5 varas.

Dista solo 4 leguas del Salto y linda con el lote num. 1 (Las Mulas) Duggan Hnos. Patricio Ham, Cristol Hnos etc. Existen en el campo siete puestos que corresponden 3 a uno y cuatro a otro lote, segun resulta de la mensura en caso de efectuarse la venta en 2 fracciones.

Hay actualmente 6 puestos o sean 720 cuadras cuadradas arrendadas, que producen 14,000 $m/c cada uno, termino medio, por puesto al año pagaderos adelantados los que seran devueltos al comprador en proporcion al termino transcurrido. Estos contratos de arrendamiento vencen el 1 de Marzo de 1885; todos los puestos tienen corrales para ovejas y pozo. Un puesto que existe ademas de los mencionados, pertenece al arrendario y se exceptua de la venta:

La base para la venta es $50 m/n la cuadra cuadrada precio muy inferior a los obtenidos ultimamente que citamos mas arrib. Ademas el campo reconoce una hipoteca de 40,000 m/n de la Serie E. que se dividira sobre cada lote y con las que puede seguir el comprador si le conviene, tomando las cedulas al precio de Bolsa y estilo de plaza.

Los interesados pueden visitar los 3 establecimientos dirijiendose a los Sres Mayordomos, quienes tienen la orden de enseñarlos y dar los informes que se les pidan.

Planos detallados pueden obtenerse en nuestra casa Alsina 78.
